

The Daily Courant.

Monday, December 6. 1714.

From the Hague Courant, dated Dec. 10.

At Warfaw, November 24.

WE are assured that the Saxon Troops who are to march out of this Kingdom will joyn themselves to those who are assembled on the Frontiers of Saxony, for it is apprehended that the Swedes have a design to make an inroad into that Electorate this Winter, and 'tis said the King being assured of it will depart speedily for Dreden to give the necessary Orders against it.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Dec. 11.
Bail, Dec. 2. The Governor of Huningen published the Peace Yesterday with the usual Formalities, and he continues to keep the French at work without Interruption upon the Demolition of the Fort situated over-against that Place on the other Side of the Rhine.

Trier, Dec. 3. The French have finished the Demolition of Fort St. Martin situate on the Banks of the Moselle over-against this City, and their Troops which were in Garrison here marched out the 28th past and took their Road towards the County of Luxemburg; the next Day the Generals Cheladet and de Galques followed them, as also the Intendant and Inspector Renaud: After this Evacuation the Troops of our Elector came and took Possession, and we have already sung Te Deum in Thanksgiving for it.

Hamburgh, Dec. 7. All that come from Stralsund and Mecklenburg pretend that the King of Sweden is very much altered, and that he is become more affable, gracious and docile; but within they add, that he will not listen to the Advice of General Ducker, who earnestly solicits him to go to Sweden, but he is firmly resolved not to return to Stockholm till he has taken Revenge of his Enemies in Germany. 'Tis judged by the Dispositions that Prince makes in Mecklenburg and upon the Frontiers of Pomerania, that his design is to attack Denmark first. His Army is already visibly increased, and General Spar is in the Netherlands listing into his Service all the Bavarians that are dismissed, and sends them by Water to Wismar. Letters from Stralsund say, the King of Sweden has written to all the Potentates with whom he is in Amity, to notify his Arrival. Count Welling has gained the King's Favour so much, that he has obtained of him an Order, forbidding any one to come from Sweden into Pomerania without the King's express Permission; and 'tis said Count Welling has done this because he was advised that those whom the Senate have named to compliment the King upon his Return are of different Sentiments from him, and would persuade the King to return to Sweden to see the State his Kingdom is in at present. Major-General Lieven carried this Order, and had at the same time Commission to cause a Body of 6 or 7000 Horse to be transported to Pomerania as soon as possible, for which purpose an Embargo is to be laid upon all Ships and Vessels fit for that transport. 15 Ships laden with Corn are newly taken and brought into Stralsund, some whereof came from Koenigsberg, and others from neutral Ports. M. Davaux, a kind of Minister of France, is gone to Stralsund, being sent by M. Poussin, and will go from thence to Hesse-Cassel, to see that the Subsidies be duly distributed and administered.

Hague, Dec. 11. M. Pettikum has lately presented a Memorial to the States, by which he desires their Guaranty for a Loan of Money which the Duke-Administrator his Master would make upon some Baillages of the Bishoprick of Lubeck; but this State is too much versed in the Affairs of the Empire to be ignorant that it is not in the Power of the Administrator to Mortgage the least Land of the Bishoprick, so they have already let that Minister know that they cannot comply with his Request. The nomination of an Ambassador for the Court of Great-Britain is not yet made, but 'tis not doubted that it will be done before the States of Holland separate. Some are of Opinion, that notwithstanding the desire M. Duyvenvoord expresses for going thither, the Choice may probably fall upon some other Person, and Counsellor Dorp, who lately was admitted into the Body of the Nobility, is named by those People as the Man that is likely to carry it. Great Sums of Money have been lately remitted from France to Amsterdam, which are to be again remitted elsewhere, and various Conjectures are made upon the purposes they are designed for.

Imbecility in Men. Which renovate the vital Parts of the Blood, restyle the languid State of all the Fluids, rouse, fortify, and increase the Spirits, invigorate the Nerves, restore juvenile Warmth, and cause a sparkling Gladness and ardent Courage to flow in the Heart, and expand it self through the whole human System, so eas-

Spirits, depriving the Mind, and damping the noble Faculties, extinguish in a great Measure the Lamp of Life, and cure Barrenness and Imbecility. They powerfully strengthen and corroborate all Parts of the Body, effectually prevent Conception, and render both Sexes prety in a wonderful Manner, as very large Experience in private Practice testifies. It is sold only at Mr. Osborne's Toyshop,
